OTHER PROVISIONS OF LAW:

Waiting Week – Most states require a 1-week waiting period where the claimant must meet all eligibility conditions before benefits are payable. The following states do not require a waiting week: AL, CT, DE, GA, IA, KY, MD, MI, NV, NH, NJ, NC (only for workers affected by a major industrial disaster), VT, WY (only from 7/1/02 to 6/30/05). The waiting week may be paid after a specified period of unemployment in MO, NJ, TX and TN. In some states, it may be suspended under certain conditions.

Base Periods – Most qualifying earnings are determined using a base period consisting of the first 4 of the last 5 completed calendar quarters. In the following states, more recent earnings may be used under certain conditions: CT, GA (until 6/30/2004), ME, MA, MI, NH, NJ, NY, NC, OH, OK (if fund meets balance requirements), RI, VT, WA, WI.

FOOTNOTES:

² When two amounts given, higher includes dependents' allowances. If state has a dependents' allowance and only one amount is given, the maximum is the same with or without the allowance.

³ This column lists the amount of weekly earnings that are disregarded (will not reduce the weekly benefit amount). However, earnings in excess of those listed will be deducted from the weekly benefit amount, resulting in a reduced payment.

⁴ For states that use earnings, further calculation is needed to derive the number of benefit weeks--take the amount obtained from the formula listed (which is the claimant's maximum benefit amount) and divide it by the claimant's weekly benefit amount. States with uniform duration do not have to calculate the number of benefit weeks since it is fixed.

⁷ Rates apply to experience rated employers only and do not include applicable surtaxes or penalties.
